Konecranes' Code of Conduct and Corporate Governance Framework guide the everyday activities of the company by clearly describing our internal standards and ethical values as well as our legal obligations. We have a group-wide Code of Conduct, which explicitly forbids the use of forced labor. The Code of Conduct is currently available in 35 languages and is publicly available at https://www.konecranes.com/sites/default/files/2023-03/Code_of_Conduct-2023-English.pdf.

During 2022 a group-wide Code of Conduct training was launched, which was rolled out as a mandatory course to all UK employees. 90% of the UK employees completed the training in 2022. The Code of Conduct training addresses human rights matters, among others. The Code of Conduct is also part of the new employee induction training. We have a group executive-level Compliance & Ethics Committee to oversee the implementation and development of our Compliance and Ethics program, which is managed by the group Compliance & Ethics team. In 2022 Konecranes published a Human Rights Policy, which states Konecranes key human rights commitments and describes the human rights due diligence process. The policy is publicly available at https://www.konecranes.com/about/sustainability/policies-and-principles.

We aim to promote a healthy speak-up culture where people feel safe reporting compliance and ethical concerns without a fear of retaliation. To encourage our employees to address any issues, we offer multiple ways to raise concerns. Among these is an externally hosted Whistleblowing Channel which gives our employees an additional means to raise concerns relating to compliance with laws and ethical conduct. The open available for externals Whistleblowing Channel is also and https://www.konecranes.com/about/sustainability/compliance-ethics/whistleblowing. This process is managed by the group Compliance & Ethics team.

The Procurement organization is responsible for compliance with the legal, ethical, environmental and other sustainability obligations of Konecranes' supplier base and sets the requirements and processes for procurement. Our goal is to evaluate and set requirements that help to ensure that environmental and social impacts are managed properly through responsible procurement.

We expect our suppliers and subcontractors to conduct their businesses according to similar legal, ethical, environmental, and employee-related principles as those we set out in our own Code of Conduct. To receive approved supplier or subcontractor status, our suppliers and subcontractors must commit to the requirements of our Supplier Code of Conduct or equal level of requirements. The Supplier Code of Conduct forbids the use of child and forced labor. The Supplier Code of Conduct is publicly available in 11 language versions at https://www.konecranes.com/suppliers-code-of-conduct-other-languages. The suppliers are encouraged to raise compliance and ethical concerns via Whistleblowing Channel as explained above.

Due Diligence and Audit Process

Konecranes has conducted a corporate level human rights risk screening. By analysing what kind of supplier and subcontractor categories and in which countries we are working with, forced labor was identified as a potential risk, for example when dealing with recruitment agencies and when using in our facilities low-skill work, such as in cleaning and in canteens. To avoid these screened and other risks from realizing, Konecranes performs supplier evaluations, which are divided in self-assessments and on-site audits. We carry out a background check in a form of self-assessment before the supplier or subcontractor relationship begins, and we evaluate whether the potential supplier or subcontractor is fulfilling the requirements set in Konecranes Supplier Code of Conduct. From 2021 onwards it is required to repeat the self-assessment every three years. Audits are conducted for selected new and existing suppliers based on identified risks. In 2022, we executed on global level 29 on-site audits for our existing suppliers, concentrating particularly on the compliance with our Supplier Code of Conduct. There was no forced or child labor identified in the audits.

To strengthen our due diligence related to minerals sourcing and compliance of human rights, we joined in 2021 Responsible Minerals Initiative (RMI), to mitigate risks jointly with hundreds of companies.

Additionally, Konecranes is conducting social responsibility assessments in own manufacturing or service operation sites. Third-party is doing the assessments against Konecranes' updated Fair Labor Frame, which includes zero tolerance for forced and child labor. In 2022 assessments were done for example in China, India and Thailand.

Statement has been approved by the Board of Directors of Konecranes Demag UK Ltd, who will review and update it as necessary on annual basis. This Statement is made pursuant to Section 54(1) of the Modern Slavery Act 2015.
